1. Is the Effort Report for another PI or Faculty member?
   - YES: DO NOT certify
   - NO: Go to question 2

2. Does PI have first-hand knowledge of all effort on the Effort Report?
   - YES: PI can certify entire report
   - NO: Go to question 3

3. Does PI have first-hand knowledge of some effort on the Effort Report?
   - YES: Use Multiple Certification feature so PI can certify individual row(s)
   - NO: DO NOT certify anything

Key Questions

- Who has access to certify or re-open an Effort Report?
  - Person named on the Effort Report (listed on My Effort Reports List)
  - PI at the Fund-Dept level for any fund on the Report (listed on My Projects List)
  - PI at the Fund level for any fund on the Report (NOT listed on My Projects List)

- What if another PI certified effort on my PI's My Projects List?
  Your PI or Faculty can re-open the report and re-certify it. PIs DO NOT certify for other PIs or Faculty. Notify the other PI's ERC of the error to prevent it from occurring in the future.

- What if someone else certified an Effort Report on my PI's My Projects List?
  This may be OK if they addressed the questions in the box above. Your PI may not be the only one with first-hand knowledge of the effort.

- Why does ERS use Payroll to estimate Effort?
  A basic assumption is that people are paid at a level equivalent to their Effort. Therefore, payroll data is used to estimate effort. Part-time employee effort is extrapolated to 100%. For example, a PT employee is paid 5% on a fund and works only 35% time: ERS % effort displays as 14% (5% divided by 35%).

- Why are there multiple versions of an Effort Report and where are the Comments?
  Effort Reports start as v1.0 and are saved as new versions each time a report is changed, saved or certified. Comments are saved to the version on which they are added. To view comments for all versions of an Effort Report, click on the Comment Log tab. To view all versions of an Effort Report, click on the View/History tab.
